“World War III is Inevitable” or “The Geopolitics of World War III”

“If my sons did not want wars, there would be none.”

Guttie Schnapper wife of Mayer Amschel (Bauer) Rothschild

To the Reader

The Canadian Constitution Act of 1982 simply states in its preamble that “Canada is founded upon principles that recognize the supremacy of God and the rule of law” and commences in detailing the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms which contains the basic rules about “natural persons” and “strawman entities,” such as the incorporated federal, and provincial and territorial governments in Canada. The Charter protects those basic rights and limited freedoms of a free and democratic country: For example, freedom of expression may be limited by laws against hate propaganda, namely degrading speech causing psychological injury or physical distress, or child pornography or propaganda advocating genocide. Everyone has freedom of conscience and religion, being guaranteed freedom of thought, belief, opinion and expression, including freedom of the press and other media of communication, and ensuring that every “natural person” and all “strawman entities” have equal standing and human dignity and are free to create and express their ideas. According to Section 319(1) of the Canadian Criminal Code it an offence to communicate expressions that bluntly malign in a public place or, by showing “willful blindness,” communicating statements other than in private conversation that publicly incite outright acts of violence and discrimination (i.e., hatred) against any identifiable group despite dissenting opinions.

World War III is Inevitable

Based on an article by Dave Hodges, The Common Sense Show

The Common Sense Show features a wide variety of important topics that range from the loss of constitutional liberties, to the subsequent implementation of a police state under world governance, to exploring the limits of human potential. The primary purpose of The Common Sense Show is to provide patriots with the tools necessary to reclaim both our individual and national sovereignty.

We can further deduce from the above Von Clausewitz quote that “politics is a continuation of economics by other means.” Therefore, it could be argued that “war is always a continuation of economics by other means.” It is worth remembering that most wars in the world over the past decade (this also applies to those that are only being prepared) are maintained primarily for natural resources (oil, gas, precious metals), and that these conflicts are very profitable for those who invest in them. Some families like the Rothschilds or the Bushes amassed vast fortunes on the blood and death of civilians and soldiers who believed they were protecting their homeland, but only helped others to get rich.

Since before 2016, Vladimir Putin, President of Russia has been under pressure from the occidental ZOG junta, which wants to overthrow and replace him with Western-minded puppet oligarchs via sanctions and intentionally orchestrated oil price crashes. Despite efforts by the Rothschild-controlled Central Bank of Russia (CBR) and the use of dozens of billions of foreign exchange reserves the value of the ruble against the dollar declined. Under the Constitution of the Russian Federation—adopted by national referendum in 1993 and amended in 2020—the CBR belongs to the foreign “Black Market” State of the slaving drug traffickers in “The Crown City of London”—the world’s financial power centre and wealthiest square mile on earth—and the neo-con military-industrial complex based in Washington, D.C., the nexus of private interests... a reprehensible criminal network of individuals and institutions involved in the production of thermonuclear and bio-chemical weapons and military technologies, such as the “Directed Energy Weapons” (i.e., a death ray in space created by Boeing<sup>1</sup> using Tesla technology). The invasive roots of the controlling globalist elite keep spreading tentacle-like branches around the world, taking their orders from the London-based Banking House of Rothschild and squeezing the life out of the common folk, being fuelled by a conveniently ambiguous and unseen enemy: the international and domestic terrorist.

The CBR can only print money corresponding to its cash in foreign currency, which being the dollar, which is not sufficient for Russia’s purposes. The CBR even has to buy the worthless US treasury bonds for the dollars paid for Russian oil—whereby the dollars are returned to the Federal Reserve Bank. This is one of the biggest heists of all time!

Nationalization of the CBR would be the first signal and the means to implement the final breach with Rothschild’s City of London gangsters and (((its))) implementation arm—the military-industrial complex based in Washington, D.C. This relationship has been tense since Putin’s seizure of Rothschild / Khodorkovsky<sup>2</sup> OJSC “Yukos Oil Company” shares: (Shares in Yukos could be acquired not only in Russia but also on the major stock exchanges of Europe and the United States). Yukos was acquired from the Russian government by Russian oligarch Mikhail Khodorkovsky’s Bank Menatep SPb—established in 1988 as one of the first private banks in Russia and later renamed Group Menatep Limited (GML), which still exists as a holding company. Between 2004 and 2007, most of Yukos’ assets were seized and transferred for a fraction of their value to state-owned oil companies. Russia’s campaign against Yukos and its owners was manufactured for political reasons and a violation of human rights... and an unfair use of the legal and tax system intended to “destroy Yukos and gain control over its assets.”

Washington’s aggressions via NATO cannot and will not diminish its pressure, especially if the war-monger Hillary Clinton is installed into office. Meanwhile, pressure on Russia forces it to technologically evolve into a national liberation movement.

Putin’s Russia

Russia’s monetary policy has until now been jointly determined by the Fed and the People’s Bank of China (PBC). This means that CBR has never really been in control of neither the ruble nor an independent Russian monetary policy. CBR can only defend against these entities by limiting its foreign exchange reserves, which are finite. Putin was then cautiously reluctant to interfere with Rothschild’s CBR grip on Russia.

The recovery in Russia after the Ruble crisis of 2014/15 was exasperated by CBR’s CEO Elvira Nabiullina, the country’s Minister of Economic Development and Trade, since September 2007—before becoming Vladimir Putin’s aide in 2012—her holding interest rates too high for too long. The Russian bond market took way to long to normalize because of this lack of liquidity. But, in 2017 and early-2018, every time Bank of Russia cut rates, the Ruble would strengthen—that’s how high demand was for them. Nabiullina once again undermined “it” by trying to control price inflation as opposed to letting the market regulate itself.

The role of a central bank, at best, should simply exist as a lender of last resort when the banking system is illiquid and needs a temporary backstop to clear interbank markets during times of stress. With Putin actively pursuing a de-dollarization policy, the central bank through interest rate arbitrage discouraged de-dollarization of the Russian economy. Sanctions, a stronger dollar and lower oil prices put upward pressure on the ruble—whilest Nabiullina combated incipient inflation from a higher ruble by raising rates before the real recovery gained traction: (It’s one thing when your adversaries are screwing you over, it’s another when your central bank is doing the same thing).

Despite Nabiullina’s mistakes, Russia was in a very good position to accept inflows of foreign safe-haven capital in 2019 on political unrest in Europe. IMF-style austerity is not a benefit to emerging markets like Russia—it is a destructive dogma that overestimates the central bank’s ability to improve the economy through manipulating interest rates.

Ever emboldened by its totally illegal regime change policies in Iraq, Egypt, Libya, Syria, Ukraine, etc., Washington and its allies were foolishly pursuing the same in Russia.

Within the ruling political and business elite a split appeared, where some, by their basic survival instinct, chose to support Putin’s path of national sovereignty, while the others were expected to either join them or be

After the dissolution of the Soviet Union in the mid-1990s, he accumulated considerable wealth by obtaining control of a number of Siberian oil fields unified under the name Yukos, one of the major companies to emerge from the privatization scheme of state assets during the 1990s.

In October 2003, Khodorkovsky was arrested by Russian authorities and charged with fraud, leading to a collapse of the company’s share price and the evaporation of much of Khodorkovsky’s wealth. In May 2005, he was found guilty and sentenced to nine years in prison. In December 2010, while he was still serving his sentence, Khodorkovsky and his business partner Platon Lebedev, former CEO of Group Menatep—imprisoned from July 2003 to January 2014—had indirect controlling interest in Yukos Oil Company... both were further charged with and both were found guilty of embezzlement and money laundering; Khodorkovsky’s prison sentence was extended to 2014. He was considered to be a prisoner of conscience by Amnesty International.

Upon being pardoned by Putin and released from prison at the end of 2013, Khodorkovsky immediately left Russia and was granted residency in Switzerland. At the end of 2013, his personal estate was believed to be worth, as a rough estimate, $100–250 million. At the end of 2014, he was said to be worth about $500 million. In 2015, he moved to London

In 2014, the Russian Supreme Court reduced Lebedev’s sentence and ordered his release from prison. But Lebedev and Khodorkovsky had to pay 17bn roubles ($500m; £300m) in tax arrears.

“War is the continuation of politics by other means.”

Carl von Clausewitz (Prussian general and military theorist)

It is the intended purpose of this communiqué to expose the atheistic criminality of those loathe bastards who promote surfeit odium against traditional families and the established Christian heritage of this once-great nation’s Anglo-French ancestors—the taproot of our Canadian Identity which hath been rooted in First Nation/Métis soil nigh unto five centuries, being watered on the sweat and blood and tears of no less than 14 generations of our colonial and pioneer ancestors.

All the evidence here-in critiqued is factual and true being duly researched and having been honestly compiled in accordance with the pursuit of unbiased truth in the hopes of sharing “The Unpopular Opinion of a Silent Majority” with thaim open-minded souls willing enough to accept incontrovertible articles of faith and the uncontestable credo of common sense—and to hell with thaim God-damned pinko heathens and hive-mind infidels of the lemming mob and criminal swine which actively promote revolting end-times degeneracy to usher us fair folk into the technocratic dark ages of novus ordo seclorum and the thinly-disguised violation of courtesy and civility by that wild gang of cycyclopic woken somnambulists—those narcissistic blood-handed liars-in-denial who have devoted our children’s children to the fires of the New Age Moloch, incoherently babbling: “Let their blood be upon their own heads and the heads of their children.”

purged. The Zio-media, on the other hand, was working against the nation. The real reason why Igor Strelkov resigned from his position as Defense Minister of the Donetsk People’s Republic, and why national structures had not formed in Donbass, despite their declarations of sovereignty in May 2014: Legislation was prepared for “mandatory de-off-shoring” of Russian corporations, 3/4 of which had a complex foreign ownership structure—non-compliance meant asset seizure. Other essential and inevitable measures included nationalization of the Central Bank, breaking the tributary link with foreign central banks, and lowering interest rates to facilitate industrialization and job-creation.

The liberation movement published a kind of “5th column assessment card,” a formula by which anyone’s actions and position can be assessed objectively. While the technology of Orange Revolution<sup>3</sup> against Russia was stuttering, Yevgeny Fyodorov, a senior member of Putin’s party and chairman of the Russian parliament’s economic policy committee, warned of the consequences of visible NATO troops in Ukraine.

“Without Ukraine, Russia ceases to be a Eurasian empire.”

Zbigniew Brzezinski, primary organizer of The Trilateral Commission

Then, in 2015, Fyodorov accused the central bank of sabotage. The bank, failing to prevent the ruble from plunging—despite spending tens of billions of foreign currency reserves trying to salvage it—was investigated by state prosecutors Pavlov Vyacheslav and Stechbart Alexander. Western sanctions had froze investments and raised funding costs—sparking a flight of capital and, as revenues fell, the currency weakened, driving inflation up and forcing the CBR to raise interest rates, exacerbating the crisis.

As stated earlier, under the Constitution, CBR (for all practical purposes) works for a foreign state, i.e., Federal Reserve, City of London, and other Rothschild entities. Giovanni Salvetti, the head of Rothschild in Russia and Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS),<sup>4</sup> manages the bank’s operations from Kazakhstan to Ukraine. In 2014, Baron David de Rothschild and the Rothschild Financial Services Group were indicted by the French government after he was accused of fraud in a bogus loan scheme (between the years of 2005 and 2008) that allegedly embezzled large sums of money from British pensioners. While news of a single Rothschild being indicted is noteworthy, it is particularly important that the French government launched an investigation into the entire Swiss branch of the Rothschild’s banking empire.

The Rothschild banking dynasty is a family line that has been accused of pulling the political strings of many different governments through their control of various economic systems throughout the world. The Rothschild Empire has been instrumental in helping move the global elite’s wealth from traditional tax havens like the Bahamas, Switzerland and the British Virgin Islands to the U.S.: After opening a trust company in Reno, Nev., Rothschild & Co. began ushering the massive fortunes of the world’s most wealthy individuals into the Rothschild-run U.S. trusts, which are exempt from the international reporting requirements.

“They [the Rothschilds] do not own the world, and they do not have carte blanche to do whatever they want. If we do not challenge them there will be other issues. We will not be bullied by them.”

Vladimir Putin, President of Russia

Russia’s economy is set to surpass Germany’s in 2020 following Putin’s ban of Rothschild banks in the country. As early as next year, Russia is likely to become the world’s fifth-largest economy, despite years of Western sanctions, multinational bank Standard Chartered predicted in its long-term growth forecasts.

<sup>3</sup> The Orange Revolution was a series of mass popular protests and political events that took place in Ukraine from late-2004 to early-2005, in the immediate aftermath of the run-off vote of the 2004 Ukrainian presidential election, which was marred... the final outcome of the election went against the prevailing trend in the former Soviet Union toward increased authoritarianism.

Ukraine would receive a reduction in the price of Russian natural gas.

<sup>4</sup> Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS)—an intergovernmental organization made up of post-Soviet nations: Armenia, Azerbaijan, Belarus, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Moldova, Russia, Tajikistan, and Uzbekistan. The CIS, which is also known as the Russian Commonwealth, was first created in 1922 through the Treaty and Declaration of the Creation of the USSR. The signing of the Belavezha Accords in 1991 dissolved the Soviet Union and replaced it with the CIS: Belarus, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Armenia, Russia, and Uzbekistan were the founding member states. The CIS oversees three different organizations: the Eurasian Economic Union, the Union State, and the Collective Security Treaty Organization.

Since Putin ordered the arrest of the Rothschild backed oligarch Mikhail Khodorkovsky, whom had made Jacob Rothschild, Henry Kissinger and Arthur Hartman directors of the Open Russia foundation, whose stated purpose was to build and strengthen civil society in Russia. Putin has banned the evil Rothschild money changers and their banking cartel family from entering Russian territory. The Central Bank of Russia has been systematically destroying the country’s private banks and consolidating immense financial power in the hands of the Kremlin Russian Federation.

The People’s Bank of China (PBC)

After the death of Chairman Mao Zedong in 1976, Deng Xiaoping<sup>5</sup> gradually rose to power and led China through a series of far-reaching market-economy reforms, which earned him the reputation as the “Architect of Modern China”—introducing the nation to a new brand of thinking that combined socialist ideology with free enterprise.

People’s Bank of China (PBC)—a cabinet-level executive department of the State Council—central bank of the People’s Republic of China, responsible for carrying out monetary policy and regulation of financial institutions in mainland China, has had the largest financial asset holdings of any central bank in the world since July 2017. The bank was established in 1948, based on the consolidation of the Huabei Bank, the Beihai Bank and the Xibei Farmer Bank. Between 1950 and 1978 the PBC was the only bank in the People’s Republic of China and was responsible for both central banking and commercial banking operations. All other banks within mainland China, such as the Bank of China, were either organized as divisions of the PBC or were non-deposit taking agencies. Chen Yuan was instrumental in modernizing the bank in the early 1990s.

Two Chinese “Policy Banks” were set up by State Council of China in 1994, namely The Export–Import Bank of China (Exim) and the Agricultural Development Bank of China (ADBC). The two banks aim at implementing economic policies of the government and conducting non-profit businesses in particular sectors. China Development Bank (CDB) used to be one of such banks before its shift to a corporation in 2008.

Established by the Policy Banks Law of 1994, CDB is described as “the engine that powers the national government’s economic development policies.” Debts issued by CDB are owned by local banks and treated as risk-free assets under the proposed People’s Republic of China capital adequacy rules (i.e., the same treatment as PRC government bonds). The bank is the second-largest bond issuer in China after the Ministry of Finance. In 2009, it accounted for about a quarter of the country’s yuan bonds and is the biggest foreign-currency lender: (The Yuan is the unit of account of China’s economic and financial system). In the last decade, CDB has issued 1.6 trillion yuan in loans to more than 4000 projects involving infrastructure, communications, transportation, and basic industries. CBD does not take private savings, so it does not have local branches like many other major banks.

The top management of the PBC are composed of the governor and a certain number of deputy governors. The governor of the PBC is appointed into or removed by the National People’s Congress—the highest organ of state power and the national legislature of the People’s Republic of China or its Standing Committee, which consists of about 170 legislators and meets in continuous session. The candidate for the governor of the PBC is <sup>5</sup> Deng Xiaoping was the paramount leader of the People’s Republic of China (PCC) from 1978 until 1989. Inheriting a country beset with social conflict, disenchantment with the Chinese Communist Party and institutional disorder resulting from the chaotic policies of the Mao era, Deng started the “Boluan Fanzheng” (literally meaning “eliminating chaos and returning to normal”)—a far-reaching program attempting to correct the mistakes of the Cultural Revolution launched by Mao, which brought the country back to order.

Chen Yun, known for his conservatism, especially in his last years, contributed much to the strategy adopted by Deng and was more directly involved in the details of its planning and construction. He was increasingly disenchanted with the direction modern China’s economic reforms were taking. In 1982 he was among those grumbling about “spiritual pollution” as the sense of freedom spread from economics, threatening China’s social, cultural, and political status quo. Chen’s philosophical rupture with Deng Xiaoping became permanent around 1984, when the Communist Party of China (CCP) began to apply the kind of market reforms that had been so successful in agriculture to urban areas and the industrial sector.

Chen Yuan eldest son of Chen Yun was Chairman of the China Development Bank from March 1998 to April 2013. Chen Yuan then served as Vice Chairman of the Chinese People’s Political Consultative Conference from 2013 to 2018.

<sup>1</sup> The Boeing Company is an American multinational corporation that designs, manufactures, and sells airplanes, rotorcraft, rockets, satellites, telecommunications equipment, and missiles worldwide. The company, being the prime integrator for the International Space Station, provides a variety of support capabilities, leasing and product support services that benefits the future space economy, deep-space exploration and life on Earth.

The evidence of Directed Free-energy Technology being used on the World Trade Center complex viz. the 9/11 fiasco has been suppressed and forensic analysis of the travesty rebuked and labeled a “conspiracy theory”: Dr. Judy Wood, a former professor of mechanical engineering with a Ph.D. Degree from Virginia Tech and a medical missionary, is the only person to have revealed the “dustification” scandal, filing her evidence of breakthrough energy technology with the courts in pursuit of truth and justice. She was a beautiful soul whom was castigated and died a suspicious death.

In her elegant 500-page text book, “Where Did the Towers Go? Evidence of Directed Free-energy Technology on 9/11,” Dr. Wood brilliantly proves beyond a shadow of doubt that the Twin Towers never hit the ground!

<sup>2</sup> In 2003, Mikhail Khodorkovsky, “the Kremlin’s leading critic-in-exile,” was believed to be the wealthiest man in Russia, with a fortune estimated to be worth $15 billion, and was ranked 16th on Forbes list of billionaires. He had worked his way up the Komsomol apparatus, during the Soviet years, and started several businesses during the glasnost period of “openness and transparency” popularized by Mikhail Gorbachev—eighth and last leader of the Soviet Union—and perestroika restructuring of the Soviet political and economic system in the late-1980s. [Komsomol or the All-Union Leninist Young Communist League—established in urban areas in 1918—was the youth division of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU).]

nominated by the Premier of the People’s Republic of China approved by the National People’s Congress.

The current governor is Yi Gang—former Director of the State Administration of Foreign Exchange—an administrative agency under the State Council tasked with drafting rules and regulations governing foreign exchange market activities, and managing the state foreign-exchange reserves. In 2016, Yi helped represent China at the semi-annual meetings of the IMF and the World Bank in Washington, D.C., including the Bank of England governor Mark Carney.<sup>6</sup> The meetings came as the yuan was for the first time being included in the IMF’s international basket of currencies known as “special drawing rights.”

The Geopolitics of World War III

If you were born yesterday... you’ll believe whatever anybody in authority tells you! As there is no way of checking up on it. Nowhere in the dubious history of the lying Zionist-occupied governments are questions of truth honestly answered. Contrary to popular belief, conduct of nation on the international stage is almost never driven by moral considerations—rather such be driven by a shadowy cocktail of money and geopolitics. As such, when you see the mouth pieces of the ruling class begin demonizing a foreign country... the first question that should be on your mind is “what is actually at stake here?” For some time now, Russia, China, Iran, and Syria have been in the crosshairs—and once you begin to understand why events unfolding in the world right now... life will begin to make much more sense.

The U.S. dollar is a truly unique currency. In fact, its’ current design and its relationship to geopolitics is unlike any other in history. Though “it” has been the world reserve currency since 1945, this is not what makes it unique: Many currencies have held “reserve status” off-and-on over the centuries. But what makes the dollar unique is the fact that since the early-1970s—with few notable exceptions—it is the only currency used to buy and sell oil on the global market: Hence it is known as the “petro-dollar”: (The preeminent global currency paid to oil-exporting countries in exchange for oil. As a result, most international transactions, including oil, are priced in U.S. dollars and oil-exporting nations receive U.S. dollars for their exports... not their own currency).

Prior to 1971, the U.S. dollar was bound to the gold standard—at least officially. According to the IMF, by 1966, foreign central banks held fourteen billion in U.S. dollars. However, the United States only had 3.2 billion in gold allocated to cover foreign holdings: translation—the Federal Reserve was printing more money than it could actually back. The result was rampant inflation... and a general fight from the dollar.

In 1971, in what later came to be called “Nixon shock,” President Nixon removed the dollar from the gold standard completely and directed the Secretary of the Treasury to take the action necessary to defend the dollar against the speculators [ ] temporarily suspending the convertibility of the dollar into gold, or other reserve assets, except an amount and conditions determined to be in the interest of the monetary stability and in the best interest of the United States. At this point the dollar became a pure “debt-based currency”—but, as with any “debt-based currencies,” “fiat-money” is literally “loaned into existence”—and, being nothing more than numbers red-penciled on paper... has no value except “debt.”

Modern Money Mechanics

Approximately 70% of the money in circulation has been created by ordinary banks which are allowed to loan out more money than they actually have in their account books—the rest is valueless paper created by the Federal Reserve which loans out imaginary money that they don’t have... mostly to the government. (Its mostly like writing hot checks... except its legal for banks).

This practice is referred to as “fractional reserve banking” and is supposedly regulated by the terra nullius Federal Reserve—an institution owned-and-controlled by a conglomerate of international ((mostly Jewish))) banks—and “no agency or branch of government regulates the Federal Reserve.”

The Federal Reserve is an independent agency—and this means that there is no agency of government which can over-rule actions that the Jewish money-changers at the Fed take...! And, as long as this insanity is tolerated... and there is no evidence that anybody is requesting that the Fed does things other than how-and/or-as what it does... then, frankly, it doesn’t matter.

The Infinite Growth Paradigm

Now, fractional reserve loans are red-penciled into existence with interest attached...” but the money to pay that interest doesn’t exist... as a result, there is always more total debt than there is money in circulation! And, in order to stay “in the black,” the economy’s debt must grow perpetually. This is obviously not sustainable.

You might be wondering how the dollar has maintained such a dominant position on the world stage for over 40 years! It is really little more than an elaborate Ponzi scheme. Well, this is where the dollar meets geo-politics. In 1973, under the shadow of the “artificial debt crisis,” the Nixon administration began secret negotiations with the government of Saudi Arabia to establish what later came to be referred to as the “Petro Dollar Recycling System”—and the “petro dollar” was made the notional unit of currency earned by a country from the export of petroleum. Under the arrangement, Saudis would only sell their oil for U.S. dollars—the majority of their excess profits being invested into U.S. capital markets. The IMF would then use this money to facilitate loans to oil importers who were having difficulties in covering increases in oil prices. The interest and payments on these loans would, of course, be denominated in U.S. dollars. This agreement was formalized in the U.S.-Saudi Arabian Joint Commission on Economic Cooperation (put together by Nixon’s Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, in 1974. The system was expanded by 1975 to include the rest of OPEC.<sup>7</sup> (Though presented as a buffer to the recessionary effects of rising oil prices, this arrangement had a hidden side effect—it removed the traditional restraints on U.S. monetary policy—and the Federal Reserve was free to increase money supply “at will” and “without restraint.”)

The ever-increasing demand for oil would prevent flight from the dollar... while distributing the inflationary consequences across the entire planet. The dollar went from being a gold-backed currency to an oil-backed currency. It also became America’s primary export. Do you ever wonder how the consumer-based U.S. economy has been able to function by running multi-billion dollar trade deficits? Do you ever wonder how it is that the U.S. holds a disproportionate amount of the world’s wealth?

In the modern era, fossil fuels make the world go round... it had become integrated into every aspect of civilization: agriculture, transportation, plastics, heating, defense, and medicine... the demand just keeps growing. As long as the world needs oil and as long as oil is only sold in U.S. dollars, there will be a demand for U.S. dollars—and that demand will give the dollar value.

For the United States this is a great deal—dollars go out either as worthless paper or as equally worthless bytes in a computer system—and real tangible products and services are made equally worthless. However, for the rest of the world, its a very sneaky form of exportation. Having global trade predominantly in dollars also provides Washington with a powerful financial weapon for sanctions... as most large-scale dollar transactions are thusly forced to pass through American banks.

This “petro-dollar system” stood unchallenged until September 2000 when Saddam Hussein announced his decision to switch Iraq’s oil sales off of the dollar and on to euros. This was a direct attack on the U.S. petro-dollar...and, easily, the most important geopolitical event of the year. But only one article in the Western Zio-media even mentioned it!

In the same month that Saddam announced he was moving away from the dollar, an organization called the Project for a New American Century—of which Dick Cheney was a member—released a document titled “Rebuilding America’s Defenses: Strategy, Forces, and Resources for a New Century.” This document called for massive increases in U.S. military spending and a much more aggressive foreign policy in order to expand U.S. dominance world-wide. However, the document lamented that achieving these goals would take many years “absent some catastrophic catalyzing event... like a new Pearl Harbour.” One year later... their wish was granted!

Propagating public emotional reaction to 9-11, the Bush administration was able to invade Afghanistan and Iraq, and pass the Patriot Act... all without any significant resistance. They knew exactly what was going to happen... but, in 2003, they did it anyway. Once Iraqi oil fields were under the American neo-cons’ control, oil sales were immediately switch back to the dollar. Mission accomplished, eh!

Soon after invading Iraq, the Bush administration attempted to extend their wars to Iran—the Iranian government was supposedly working to build weapons of mass destruction. After the Iraq fiasco, Washington’s credibility was severely damaged... as a result, they were unable to muster international or domestic support for an intervention. Their efforts were further sabotaged by elements within the CIA—however, the demonization campaign against Iran continued—even into the Obama administration. Why? Well... it might have something to do with the fact that Iran has been in the process of organizing an independent oil market since 2004—and, it wasn’t going to be tied to the dollar.

The first shipments of oil were sold through this market in July 2011. Unable to manufacture the war that they wanted, the American capitalists used the U.N. to impose sanctions against Iran. The goal of the sanctions was to topple the Iranian regime. Whilest this did inflict damage on Iranian economy, these measures failed to destabilize the country—due, in large part, to Russia’s assistance in bypassing U.S. bank restrictions.

In February 2009, after Muammar el-Qaddafi was named chairman of the African Union, he immediately proposed the formation of a unified state with a single currency. It was the nature of a proposed currency that got him killed!

In March 2009, the African Union released a document titled “Towards a Single African Currency”—pages 106 and 107 of that document specifically discuss the benefits and technicalities running the African central bank under a gold standard. On page 94, it explicitly states that the key to success in the African monetary union would be the “eventual linking of a single African currency to the most monetary of all commodities”... gold.

In 2011, the CIA moved into Libya and began backing militant groups in their campaign the topple Qaddafi. And, the U.S. and NATO pushed through and stressed a no-fly zone resolution to tip the balance of power. The presence of al-Qaeda extremists amongst rebel fighters was swept under the rug. Libya, like Iran and Iraq, had committed the unforgivable crime of challenging the U.S. petro-dollar. When the NATO intervention in Libya segued into a covert war on Syria, the armories (and vaults) of the Libyan government were looted... and stolen weapons were shipped via Turkey to Syrian rebels working to topple Assad.<sup>8</sup> organization: Islamic Republic of Iran, Iraq, Kuwait, Saudi Arabia and Venezuela. These countries were later joined by Qatar (1961), Indonesia (1962), Libya (1962), the United Arab Emirates (1967), Algeria (1969), Nigeria (1971), Ecuador (1973), Gabon (1975) and Angola (2007). Between December 1992 and October 2007, Ecuador suspended its membership; Gabon terminated its membership (1995); Indonesia suspended its membership in January 2009, but this was reactivated on 1 January 2016. This means that, currently, the organization has a total of 13 Member Countries. The OPEC Statute distinguishes between the Founder Members and Full Members and those countries whose applications for membership have been accepted. The Statute stipulates that “any country with a substantial net export of crude petroleum, which has fundamentally similar interests to those of Member Countries, may become a Full Member... if accepted by a majority of three-fourths of Full Members, including the concurring votes of all Founder Members.” The Statute further provides for Associate Members which are those countries that do not qualify for full membership, but are nevertheless admitted under such special conditions as may be prescribed.

<sup>8</sup> Bashar Hafez al-Assad, President of Syria since 17 July 2000, is commander-in-chief of the Syrian Armed Forces and Regional Secretary of the Arab Socialist Ba’ath Party in Syria. His father, Hafez al-Assad, President of Syria (1971 – 2000), established an authoritarian totalitarian regime under the control of the “nationalist, populist, socialist, and

It was already clear at this point that a large percentage of these fighters had ties to terrorist organizations. However, the U.S. national security apparatus considered this as a necessary evil. In fact, the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR) published an article, in 2012, stating that “the influx of Jihadis brings discipline, religious fervor, battle experience from Iraq, funding from Sunni sympathizers in the Gulf... and the most important thing... deadly results.” In short, the Free Syrian Army (FSA) needed al-Qaeda.

In 2013, these same al-Qaeda-linked Syrian rebels launched two sarin gas attacks in an attempt to frame Assad and muster international support for military intervention. Fortunately, they were exposed by U.N. and Russian investigators—whence the push for air-strikes completely fell apart.

The Syrian War is a Proxy War

The campaign for regime change in Syria, as in Libya, has been presented in terms of human rights. Obviously this isn’t real motive. In 2009, Qatar put forward the proposal to run a natural gas pipeline through Syria and Turkey to Europe. Assad, however, rejected this—and, in 2011, he forced a pact with Iraq and Iran to build the pipeline eastward—cutting Qatar and Saudi Arabia out of the loop completely. Not surprisingly, Qatar, Saudi Arabia and Turkey have been the most aggressive regional players in the push to topple the Syrian government. But why would this pipeline dispute with Syria and Washington cross hairs? Three reasons:

- 1) This pipeline arrangement would significantly strengthen Iran’s position, allowing them to export to European markets without having to pass through Washington’s allies: This obviously reduces the U.S. government’s leverage.
- 2) Syria is Iran’s closest ally: its collapse would inherently weaken Iran.
- 3) Syria and Iran have a mutual defense agreement—and U.S. intervention in Syria could open the door to open conflict with Iran.

In February 2014, this global chess game heated up a new venue—Ukraine. The real target, however, was Russia... the world’s second-largest oil exporter. And not only have they been a thorn in Washington’s side diplomatically... but they also caused an energy bourse in 2008 with sales nominated in rubles, not gold. Ore-so, Russia had been in the process of organizing a Eurasian Economic Union, planning to adopt a common currency unit which was slated to have its own independent energy market. Leading up to the crisis Ukraine was presented with a choice: either join the E.U. under an association agreement or join Eurasian Union. The E.U. insisted that this was an either-or proposition—but Ukraine couldn’t join both. Russia, on the other hand, asserted joining both posed no issue. President Yanukovych decided to go with Russia. In response, the U.S. national security apparatus did what it does best—Yanukovych was removed from office in the 2014 Ukrainian revolution and currently lives in exile in Russia.

Though this all seemed to be going well at first, the U.S. quickly lost control of the situation. Crimea held a referendum and people voted overwhelmingly to secede from Ukraine and reunify with Russia. The transition was orderly and peaceful—no one was killed—but the West immediately framed the entire event as an act of Russian aggression. This quick became a mantra from that point on.

The Autonomous Republic of Crimea (within Ukraine) is important geo-strategically because of its position in the Black Sea, which allows the projection of naval power into the Mediterranean... and the U.S. has been pushing for Ukraine’s inclusion into NATO for years now...! Such a move would place U.S. forces right on Russia’s border—resulting in Russia loss of their naval base in Crimea. This is why Russia immediately accepted the results of the disputed 2014 Crimea referendum” and quickly consolidated the territory.

Meanwhile, in Eastern Ukraine, two regions declared independence from Kiev and held referendums of their own—the results overwhelmingly favored self-rule. Kiev responded to this with what they referred to as “anti-terrorist operations.” In practice, this is a massive and indiscriminate shelling campaign killing thousands of civilians. Apparently, killing civilians didn’t qualify as aggression to the West. In fact, the IMF explicitly warned the provisional government that their seventeen billion dollar loan package could be in danger if they were not able to put down the uprising in Eastern Ukraine. While the war against Eastern Ukraine was raging, elections were held and Petro Poroshenko—a major supporter of the anti-government protestors in Ukraine was elected president: (He was exposed by a leaked diplomatic cable released by WikiLeaks in 2008 as having worked as a mole for the U.S. State Department since 2006). They referred to him as “our Ukraine insider.” Much of the cable referred to information he was providing. Having a puppet in place, however, hadn’t turned out to be enough to get Washington the upper hand in this crisis. What does Washington do when they have no other leverage? They impose sanctions and they demonize [ ] this wasn’t a very good strategy for dealing with Russia—in fact, their plans backfired. Sanctions merely pushed Russia and China into closer cooperation—accelerating Russia’s de-dollarization agenda. In spite of the rhetoric, this did not lead to Russia being isolated. The U.S. and NATO put a wedge between themselves in Russia... not between Russia and the rest of the world. This new anti-dollar axis goes deeper than economics—these countries understand what’s at stake. This is why in the wake of the Ukrainian crisis China proposed a new Eurasian security pact including Russia and Iran.

Consider the implications of the Obama administration beginning bombing in Syria... which also had a mutual defense agreement with Iran.

Cold War 2.0 or World War 3.0

This is not the Cold War 2.0. This is World War 3.0. The masses may not have figured out yet... but history will remember it that way. Audiences are solidifying and hot wars are underway on multiple fronts—provocations revolutionary” Ba’ath Party, which has ruled Syria continuously since the 1963 Syrian coup d’état that brought the Ba’athists to power.

<sup>9</sup> Pro-Moscow authorities on the Crimean peninsula held a referendum on whether the region should secede from Ukraine and join Russia as a federal subject, or if they wanted to restore the 1992 Crimean constitution and Crimea’s status as a part of Ukraine. With over half the votes counted, 95.5% of those people who voted had chosen the option of annexation by Moscow, but the vote violated Ukrainian and international law and could come back to haunt Moscow.

and proxy wars continue: It’s only a matter of time for the big players to confront each other directly... and that is a recipe for disaster.

Does all this sound insane to you? Well your right. The people running the world right now are insane... and the public is sleepwalking into a tragedy. If you want to alter the course that we are on... there’s only one way to do it: Even the most powerful weapons of war are neutralized if we reach the minds of those with their fingers on the doomsday button.

How do we wake the masses? Don’t wait for someone else to answer that for you. get creative... act like your children’s and grandchildren’s futures depend on it... because they do—trust me “we’ve got some very interesting storm clouds gathering.”

A bank-driven economic system is sucking the life’s-blood out of ordinary people through the process of usury and taxation. People are enslaved personally through threat of loosing basic necessities: food, shelter, health and education (mortgages, credit consumerism, insurances etc...) while we suffer double-jeopardy of paying interests on corrupt government borrowing (to support the bankers) through taxation.

Some Pigs are More Equal

Smarten up, eh! As China, Russia and the United States are drawn into a confrontation, the world’s economy will be obliterated along with billions of lives. In the aftermath of the coming global holocaust, the supreme financial rulers of the planet will be waiting to create order—New World Order—reaping chaos. And that war has already started with the Russian invasion of Syria.

Make no mistake about it... the BIS controls the central banks and world finance. New World Order is very much a reality. What is interesting is that I have completed the article and I barely mentioned how Putin laid the groundwork for Moscow to end Syrian conflict with the territorial caliphate of the Islamic State in Iraq and Syria (ISIL)... and he accomplished this feat in less than 10 days when the U.S. has been trying to accomplish the same for years.

Putin, in a move foreign to politics, has openly explained the dangers to the media, asking them to share the information with the people... something U.S. politicians would never do, since they have a policy of keeping the American people in the dark. Putin has found him in the unlikely role of underdog fighting for common people all over the world... good folk who want to be free from neocolonialism, imperialism and the evil influence of the Jesuit Papacy, the Aristocrazia Nera, cultural Marxism, the banker-mafiosa of Frankfurt am Main and the likes of Coudenhove-Kalergi.

Make no mistake about it, though; Putin is no hero. He is a Freemason and is doing exactly what is expected of him. He is a Khazarean banker-controlled-leader masquerading as an independent leader who stands for truth, justice and the “American way.” If you don’t think this is true, then why is half of America rooting for Putin to win and Trump to lose?

I have a question for y’e ‘woken’ sleepers... y’e ‘Garasene’ lemmings and ‘hive-mind’ sheeple: “Are you financially, physically, spiritually and emotional prepared for the inevitable!?”

“Terminal Velocity”

Each big inflation starts with a passive expansion of the quantity money... which sits inert for a time. Asset prices may go up, but latent price inflation is disguised. The effect is much like gasoline on a fire before the match is struck.

People’s willingness to hold money can change suddenly for “psychological and spontaneous reasons”... causing a spike in the velocity of money. It can occur at lightning speed, over a surprisingly short period of time... and invariably catches economists by surprise. They wait too long to drain the excess money... and get burnt.

Near civil war between town and country will be a pervasive feature of the break-down of social order. Large mobs of half-starved and vindictive townsmen will descend on villages and farms to seize food from farmers and ranchers accused of hoarding. Common booty will become the currency of pauperized civil service elites trading the symbols of their old status for a sack of potatoes and a side of bacon.

Foreigners with money and power will live in opulence whilest the “national citizens” will suffer from more than want or need. Hatred and terror will harrow every realm. Corruption will buy and sell Ma’at. And, great numbers of citizens which have failed to realize the quick becoming Apocalypse... as hath been “revealed” to the prophets and soothsayers already long dead and forgath. Imagine how much more y’ trusting fools who heedeth not the warners shall suffer whence even our children’s children will have to struggle to reclaim our stolen heritage—the gift of our ancestors.

The Kalergian refugee “replacement peoples” are the central bank’s new debt slaves. ZOG doesn’t give a good god damn about any of us... they’d rather we gay were mindless automatons... clones and androids... soulless meaty machines which they could turn on-and-off at their behest. Hell, why not do away with fleshapoids for ever and robotize “human” labour. We “free folk” are naught but useless eaters to be bought and sold, bartered and traded, mortgaged and liened against, used and abused and, as we be a disposable resource... quick become nugatory and surely disposed of—as (((they))) didst in places like Auschwitz, Nanking and/or the Gulag Archipelago scant decades past... or worse, we be devalued as “logs” as hap’t at Unit 731... or eliminated off as done in the “killing fields” and at Tuol Sleng (S21).

The New World Order want to plunge us all into World War III and the failure of the central banks to corral and control Vladimir Putin, President of Russia and Xi Jinping, President of the People’s Republic of China has made Armageddon a likely scenario.

As Putin continues on the path of destroying the dollar as the world’s reserve currency, what will Federal Reserve Chairman Jerome Powell do? Is he not a greater threat to world peace than Xi Jinping?

There will be a war to preserve the status quo.

Stop borrowing from these banks and begin looking for loop-holes to avoid paying taxes and start resisting their UN Agenda 21 vaccination-depopulation plan—we are not cattle to be RFID-chipped by the gadom commies... these Nosferatun parasites. If we refuse to allow them to “dumb us down” and “brown us out”—if we stop kowtow cooperation with them... they will not be able implement their evil designs on us—if we but only just “dare to care” and—oi oi oi—“repent and rebel.”
